EXPERIENCE

Chelsey joins TOK Commercial with a strong background in commercial real estate, business development, marketing, and strategic partnerships. Her career has been centered around building relationships, developing business opportunities, and working closely with companies and industry professionals throughout the region. Her experience has given her a strong understanding of the commercial real estate industry and the many factors businesses consider when making decisions about their space, operations, and future growth.

Throughout her career, Chelsey has worked closely with commercial clients, business owners, corporate relocation partners, contractors, operations leaders, and other professionals supporting office, industrial, relocation, and facility transition needs. Her background in marketing and business development has strengthened her ability to identify opportunities, understand client objectives, communicate effectively, and develop long-term relationships. This experience provides a valuable perspective as she works with clients on their commercial real estate needs.

At TOK Commercial, Chelsey works with clients throughout the commercial real estate process, helping them evaluate opportunities and make informed decisions that align with their business goals. She assists with property acquisitions and dispositions, seller and landlord representation, buyer and tenant representation, site selection, lease negotiations, and market research. With a relationship-first approach, Chelsey takes the time to understand each client's unique objectives and works to provide thoughtful guidance and responsive service throughout every stage of a transaction.

Chelsey is passionate about the role commercial real estate plays in supporting business growth and the continued development of the communities she serves. She brings a collaborative approach to each client relationship, combining her commercial real estate experience with a strong marketing and business development background to help clients identify opportunities, navigate the market, and achieve their real estate goals.
